Mary's funeral was yesterday, I heard from a daughter say, Of hymns and Praise they did sing Last Friday then deep sleep, did He bring. Sat upon her bed and held her hand. In their home, they took their stand. To face the certainty of what was to come, To awake no more and feel the sun. Quietly slipping from life to life. The end of worry, the end of strife. Husband, son, daughter, grand son and great grand son Had gone before The more to meet her, on that now near shore. No twinkle of eye or smile did I see In her box this side of eternity. But here life went on with each pew filled Declaring this dear lady's corn was milled. Ecclesiastes 11:1 Cast thy bread upon the waters: for thou shall find it after many days. Ed Matthew 12/14/12 Now, Joseph, a just man was he, Had thought to divorce her privily. Until the angel of the Lord appeared in a dream, Saying "fear not," as all was not as it seemed. I am writing to those left in the family, for REBEKAH LYNN. Although Rebekah didn't get to know her well, she always loved her, for who she was to her; her Great-Grandmother. I'm glad that she got to see her at Uncle John Morgan's funeral, and know how Beautiful and Precious she is. I know "AUNT" Ellouise had taken on the challenges of caring for her mother. I SO admire that, and understand those challenges. It is the right thing to do. I'm SO glad she was never in a Nursing Home! She knew she was LOVED, and she was comfortable. How BLESSED you were to have her 92 years! May she TRULY 'rest' now, with no pain, and in the Hands of our dear Lord and Saviour, JESUS! May GOD Bless your family at this time and always, Lisa Marie Nave

Ms. Mary was a comforting constant in a chaotic world. I loved driving down the gravel road to the country and seeing her in her chair outside or picking blueberries or having a nice chat with Mere. Love you Ms. Mary; you are already missed.

Ms. Mary lived alone without needing even a TV. After a lifetime of serving God's people & her church, she spent her last years reading His Word, singing hymns and praying. What an example for us to follow in rejecting the pleasures and entertainment of this world to gain eternal treasures. May her name be a blessing for us to remember.

Wishing so bad to be home with family right now. But sending love instead. MawMaw Bennett is where she has been wanting to be. I have been going through so many memories from my childhood today. Remembering MawMaw wrestling with us kids in the yard. Playing her guitar and singing. Always working in her garden. Her love of her church family as well as the love of her family. She was always willing to help anyone. I can even remember her making us pick our own switches for a whippin'we surely deserved! There isn't enough room to put all the memories that have come back to me today, but they will forever remain in my heart. I love you MawMaw.

Ellouise & Julie, I am praying for comfort for you as I know how much losing a loved one hurts. However, I can see Aunt Mary chatting it up with MawMaw Bennett in heaven as they use to do so many times when I would visit MawMaw. Aunt Mary was a very good person & I loved her. She practiced being a good Christian & it showed. She was so very good to MawMaw & I appreciated it so much! I will be praying for you all. Love, Cindy
