Joyce, William and Alison, Words cannot express the sadness I feel on the passing of Bill. If one looks up the definitions of "Gentlemen" and "integrity", you will find Bill's picture there. I will always cherish the years Bill and I shared working side by side all those years at Merrill Lynch. It was a huge loss for me when he retired. This loss is much greater. He was such a wonderful, caring person. May God send you and your family the courage and strength to get through this difficult time. I can hear him saying "Think of this as a challenge to your inner peace". Words I still remember and live by. He and Susan are together again.
