Mom, it's been so hard since you left us. We are having a small memorial at the house on Saturday for your friends in Texas to celebrate your life. I flew to CA on your birthday and felt so close to you while flying high in the sky. I could feel your arms around me as I sat in the plane. The house (and my heart) has been so empty without you. You are in my thoughts every minute of every day. I miss you soooooo much. I love you always.

Liz, I did not have the pleasure of meeting your mom, but I'm sure if she was half as caring and loving to her friends and family as you are, then the world has truly suffered a great lost. Just remember the person she was and who she has touched in her life. I think that might help. My thoughts and prayers are with you....Today, Tomorrow and Always!

Betty was a sweet lady who had a LOT more spunk, humor and intelligence of few women half her age. She was quick to smile and tell a thoughtful story or important memory. She showed amazing strength and sharpness and always her good nature -- even in painful times she was generous in spirit and welcoming to friends. I will certainly miss her, and I won't forget her having a special place in my heart as our chorus mom! I'm sure she is at the Lord's knee telling funny stories and making heaven an even brighter place! GODSPEED, MS. BETTY!

Liz, Helen, Ruth and love ones. I was so sorry to hear of Betty's death. She was a very nice person and I enjoyed her visits to my house. Even though she didn't live in Louisiana any longer, she will be sadly missed. May the Good Lord Bless her and bring her into heaven so that one day we shall all meet again just as the Lord promised to all those who have loved and served him on earth. Remember you three always remain close and love one another. That would be the best gift Betty left behind.

Ruth, Although I have not yet lost a parent, I have experienced loss. Even though it's been two years and seven months for me, I still never quite know what to say to people who I wish to comfort during their own trials of loss. Though this is painfully hard for me to do, if you could remember to find some "quite" time away from all the noise of this hurried world, you will find "her". David walks with me daily. His stone on his grave reads, "I carry your heart in my heart..." And I believe that. So carry your mother with you daily and call on her when you miss her or need her. Though dealing with the physical absence is still very much a challenge for me personally ... always know that She will never be far away. Take care of yourself. My thoughts and prayers are with you and your family. Love, Donna

Dear Ruth and family, Know that you are in my thoughts today and have been over the past week. As I walked this morning in the crisp, breath of autumn, I thought of the beauty in transition, of nature's infinite march - always changing, always renewing. I share with you today one of my favorite poems. THE WAY IT IS There is a thread you follow. It goes among things that change, but it doesn't change. People wonder about what you are pursuing. You have to explain about the thread. But it is hard for others to see. While you hold it, you can't get lost. Tragedies happen; people get hurt or die; and you suffer and get old. Nothing you can do can stop time's unfolding. You don't ever let go of the thread. William Stafford 1914-1993 The thread can be a metaphor for many things - at this moment, I believe it is the eternal bonds and love of family. May you be graced with your love for each other. Sincerely, Lynne Vance

I am sad that I was not there to be with you in your final days of life, however I know that you will always be with me and looking over me while your up in Heaven. Please tell my Father that I love him. I will see you again one day...but for now rest in peace and God Bless...
