He was a father to me more than my own father. He was not only the only father I knew but he was my mentor and the man that saved my life. He never left me and his influence changed my life and my family's life. He never judged me instead stood up for me. He taught me everything that has helped me to build the life I have with my family. I am forever sorry that I was not there to spend the time that he deserved in his final years. He is the man that saw the man in me and I will owe everything to him for that. I will carry every precious memory of him in my heart until I see him again. I loved him and will always love him and hold his memory warmly within my heart until the last of my days.
