Jonathan Stephen DiLeo passed away on Thursday, December 4, 2008 from complications related to the treatment of a brain tumor.

Beloved son of Stephen and Cassy DiLeo; loving brother to Michael Carlo DiLeo, Kathryn DiLeo, and new brother to Phillip Michael "M.J." Coates; grandson to Larry R. Miele, Sr. and Marlene Miele; and nephew of Larry Miele, Jr., Charles DiLeo, Patricia Rodrigue and her husband David, Nancy Meier, Carol Benit and her husband Thomas, Trudy DiLeo and her husband Chris Shaw and Janet DiLeo Wade, as well as numerous cousins and other relatives. DiLeo, Ruth LaCroix DiLeo and Cheryle Townsend Miele; an aunt, Lillie R. DiLeo; and an uncle, Christopher DiLeo.

Age 17 years, a native of New Orleans, LA and a resident of Covington, LA for the past 16 years, he was an Honor Student of the Junior class at Fontainebleau High School and a former student of Northlake Christian School. While attending FHS he participated on the Cross Country Team, the Philosophy Club and the Creative Writing Club. Mr. & Mrs.DiLeo, There are many feelings I could share with you about Jon. He was, among many things, an inspiration to me. Within our over-filled school, Jonathan was one of my closest friends. He and I shared many hours a day, since freshman year. It is hard for me to even say how much I miss him. After reminiscing over what a terrific buddy Jon was, I decided that I just need to remember him. My favorite memory is freshman year. There was a dance that was only open to freshmen and seniors. This was awesome and it was a karaoke dance. Anyway, there was a large group of us dancing and watching everyone sing. I have always loved to sing, but struggle with self-confidence. Jon picked up on my desire to go sing. He was my shove to go up. Him and I, along with a small group, went up and sang "AllStar" by Smashmouth. It was amazingly hilarious! I can still taste his hair in my mouth. Jon and I shared a microphone and he was belting it out even though he knew that he was terrible. He made my night. His courage and sincerity spread to anyone and everyone around him. I love him dearly and hope to relay my sincere remorse for our loss. I know though that one day I will meet up with him again. I can't wait! We'll be singing! Love, Janelle Cooper
P.S. Jon's service was beautiful. He loved it. I'm sure.

I have seen all possible emotions flow from those who are close to me. Joy, peace, humor, longing, hopefulness, sadness, anger. Sadness and anger. That is something I have never seen come from Jonathan. I can testify to that and God is my witness. Anger and sadness are normal emotions, everyone feels them. But Jonathan didn't care what he felt, all he wanted to do was put a smile on the face of everyone he talked to. To put someone before yourself, he never failed to do that. In their last moments of life, people show you what's really in their heart. Amazing that in the darkest, most feared point in Jon's life, he shone the brightest. Maybe Jon was trying to teach us something. Maybe love isn't wanting. Maybe love is giving. Maybe we need to look at those around us and just wish to have them smiling. What terrible loss death can bring. How painful it feels. But the last thing Jon would want is for us to hurt. Jon has entered eternal joy; he will never again feel sadness or anger. Right now, the angels are raising applause to Jon for living a life that put a smile on God's face. We too need to raise applause to Jonathan DiLeo. Well done Jonathan, well done.
