I've just heard by the RIP in the name of Tagged friends that Bill has passed away and I want to express to his family my deepest sympathy. We were loose playing partners and estimated friends on Tagged. I knew he was seriously ill, though I was not a close friend of his. We sometimes discussed illness together, particularly last time he came back to Tagged after a long period of absence and approached me to apply to a group of Pets players. It so happens that I myself went through a lung cancer years ago and I imagine my words were of some comfort to him. Then no news at all... I suspected his health had deteriorated but didn't know the end would come so soon. He was a nice man - a gentleman I would say, which is rare on Tagged - and I really appreciated him. All my thoughts are with his family and friends at this sad time. Please accept my most sincere condolences. Yours faithfully, Marie-Laure Lanchou
