Thank you Dusty and Liz for taking me in when I had nowhere to go. Thanks for all ya'll have done for me and my kids. Thank you Deadra for sharing your daddy with me when mine left us. Dusty you were a great father and grandfather. I will never understand why things happened the way they did but I do know that you are at peace now. You are finally happy. There is a reason that Jesus and Bert needed you in Heaven. Please don't share too many embarrassing stories with my dad about mine and Dee's childhood. (: I am trying my hardest to hold Dee up at this time. I have assumed your role of her rock to get her thru these hard times. I'll keep an eye on Boo Boo and Liz too. Fly high...watch over us and keep us safe. Love you forever "Daddy" Dusty. Gone but never forgotten.

As I get ready to make the journey home to lay you to rest I am flooded with all the memories of you and feeling the pain of knowing that there will never be another day at the river or time spent on the houseboat where everyone will not feel the void of your presence, so many things will not be the same without you Dusty. You have touched so many lives and Im not sure you trully knew how much you meant to all of us. It was an honor to have you and Bubba as my chaperones in Cajun Country, always looking out for me and I can honestly say I learned from the best! May you rest in peace my friend, Love you Always.
