Dear Norma, Just a note to express our sorrow over your recent loss of Jimmy. We also know (too well) the ravages of cancer, and how it affects our loved ones, our families and ourselves. You are so strong, and so loving! We know you will miss him greatly, and we will too. Our great consolation from God is to know that we will be re-united in Heaven one day, and be together with our loved ones, for all eternity! May God bless you always, and see you through this great, personal loss. Love,

I got to know Jimmy years ago when I was advised to call him to see if he could help me with a home renovation project. He did. We became friends and were able to help each other on several other occasions. I never saw Jimmy or even passed him on the street that we didn't smile, wave, and sometimes stop to chat. He was a positive presence in our Old Mandeville community and He will be missed.
