Kathleen, I tried to attend the services with no luck. My prayers go to you with memories of a true WWII hero. He was an important participant in MOAA, helping to make it the great group that it is. We will really miss him - he was truly respected among his veteran friends. Please attend our affairs, so we can be with you. With god's blessings, Audrey Maduell

The neighborhood just won't be the same without Clyde to keep us on our toes. My deepest sympathy to all of Clyde's family and friends here in LA and around the country through his military service. I will especially miss Clyde at those amazing Halloween parties at Jane and Wolf's haunted house. Clyde's costume was always wickedly witty. I will miss you.

I always admired Clyde--during the Vietnam War his mission was to get "lit up" by enemy anti-air batteries, then take them out with HARM missiles before they took him out. This saved the lives of many American pilots.
