The world has lost one of the greatest child advocates ever known. Judy created a safe place for children so she could help them heal their emotional wounds. While a professor at SLU she exuded such passion for the field of Social Work that many students followed her into the field. She was an interesting and dynamic professor. Judy, we are all going to miss you so much. We had so much fun as kids. It went by way too fast.

And they too were lifted up
As the promise always said
And the labels that belonged
Are laid to rest and gone
And what happened in the glistening
Was the gentle sweet relief
Now brilliant tiny stars
On the gentle midnight reef
And thoughts and remembrances
Like fire all a glow
Now imprints for our hearts to hold
Of them that had to go
No solitude or singleness
No searching for the calm
No tears and labors emptiness
No hatred to disarm
Desire and all restlessness
Now sugar in the sea
And so, my friend, we wait behind
Till we can be so free
