If tears could build a stairway and memories a lane I would walk right up to heaven and bring you back again No farewell words were spoken, no time to say good-bye you were gone before I knew of it and only God knows why My heart still aches in sadness, and secret tears still flow what it meant to lose you, know one will ever know But now I know you want us, to mourn for you no more to remember all the happy times, life still has much in store Since you'll never be forgotten, I pledge to you today a cherished place within my heart is where you'll always stay Love You Forever Your Ex Wife, Laurie Lockhart Charbonnet

Much time has passed since I have seen Darren, but I remember him well and think of him often. I was deeply saddened with the news of his passing. He was a straight forward, honorable, humble man of talent and clear direction. I regret not continuing our relationship for I know I would have benifitted from it. "Dagwood" I haven't seen ya in about thirty years but I feel I've lost a true friend. I'll miss ya for a while but'll see you later.(maybe we can give booga-red another go.) May God bless all of Darren's family.

My deepest sympathy to Darren's family. I always knew when I came to town I could go to Bryan and visit - he would always stop to joke and chat about everything and he was always messing with Shawn! Can't imagine Darren with wings... and can't imagine him with a pitchfork either, I just know God took a good spirit back home.
