To the family you all have our deepest sympathy, for we loved your dad also, he will be missed. If there's anything we can do please don't hesitate to call upon our family. Helen, my dear know that you are loved by me and my family. I tried to call you on the 14th. by got no response and was not aware until I read the morning paper and found out about Joe. I hesitated to tell Michele but decided it was best for her to know and I told her. She's been weak and in bed all day. She's feeling fighting her illness is just prolonging the inevitable and wants to give up. However, I continuously tell her the same words Joe told her when he last spoke to her, " Keep on fighting cause life is worth it when you do it right". So dear one know that God is still God and have not forgotten nor forsaken you and your family. He is and will be available. Give Michelle and Patricia our love and let them know even though their father may appear to be gone from them in the physical eye, he is still with them spititually and will never leave them. He loved you all so much. I don't want tire you with reading this, so I'll say to you and your family, know that you are loved and supported in all your endeavors for the "Browns" keeps you in our prayers. We love ya'll. Yur friend, Marion.

We still see Dad relaxing with a cigar on his tractor and smiling away! He always encouraged us all to do what makes us happy. I will miss his hugs and the kisses on my neck that tickled so much (Michelle, you know what I am talking about). To Patrick, he was a father and Julia just plain adored him. Goodbye for now wonderful man. Tricia, Pat and Julia
