My, such a tragedy! My heart and prayers go out to Matt and Stephanie and family during this time; sorry I could not make it down for funeral. We don't know why or when God is ready for his angels; it is not for us to understand. Yet he still performs miracles every day. We recently had one in our family. AMy five year old grandson was trapped under a new flipped air boat for ten minutes or more in the water. He was not breathing when they finally found him and got him out; did cpr and air listed to hospital. He is perfectly okay now. We don't know God's ways. Take care and may you find some peace with this tragedy. He was such a handsome guy. I love ya'll. Betty Faye

I only met Matt a few months ago. We worked together on the job site, LPV111. He worked for a subcontractor for the firm I work with. We worked well together. He was a good hard worker with a great attitude. I enjoyed having the chance to work with him. He was one of those individuals who give it all at work. Unfortunately this tragic accident cost him, and us all. My condolences to his family, I will miss him too!

We will always remember Mathew as a great kid, that grew up to be a fine young man. Allen was walking one day right after we move here and Mathew stop to ask if he needed a ride, Allen said that he was just out walking. Mathew said he didn't want to pass him up without checking. He always had a smile on his face. I'm sure he had that smile when he saw Jesus. God bless his whole family.

I have so many wonderful memories of Matthew, having had the pleasure of watching him grow up into the fine young man he was. I guess one special memory would be the time he and Gary played Barbies with Jennifer just to aggravate her by taking all the pretty outfits and shoes. Or, the time Matthew and Gary lined Matt's El Camino with a heavy plastic liner to create a neighborhood pool, even if just for a little while. Or how he use to walk on stilts. I know that Heaven has a lot more laughter now. Matthew was always clowning around and making people laugh. I know that so many people are going to miss his beautiful smiling face. We love you Matthew and will miss you so much.
