My cousin EJ is in a much better place today. I am thankful he chose God in later life. I am thankful God chose us to be blood kin. He was always an adventurous, active, and fun loving man to me. Laughter w him was inevitable and infectious. He reminded me of my Uncle Herbie in so many ways. As family men, EJ and Uncle Herbie , were quick to encourage and involve others in their happiness. Whether it was a new trick horse, the latest new motorcycle, a fancy new or old car or a trip to foreign places like New Orleans or New Mexico they both wanted you to enjoy life WITH THEM. Cathy, I pray for God's peace and comfort in the coming days. Thank you for sharing EJ and your adventures with us. His memory will be with us for a lifetime.

E.J., words cannot describe the loss that Jim & I feel at this moment. You were so full of life, plans for the future, love for your family and friends. Cathy, you were so blessed for having those precious years to share with such a giving person. E.J. is in a good place right now, we "know" that. Melissa & Julie, we are so sorry for your loss. A Grand Father should be able to watch his beautiful grandchildren grow up. But it was not to be. Cathy, we know how much fun we've shared with you both in the past months. We were "making memories", and we'll sit share those memories as we sit and talk about the fun we had together. So much laughter, so much fun, so little time. We're here for you all. You are dearly loved. E.J.'s words of wisdom were, "you can make new friends anytime, but you can't make new "old" friends.". Oh how we miss you already. Love you all Ruth & Jim McCormick
