Cindy Dean lit a candle in honor of Harry.

What a honorable and noble man. What a blessing to have had him as a father. He was a gentle soul. May God wrap his loving arms around you all as you grief and celebrate his life. There is a special place in a daughter 's heart for her dad. Theresa , you are right- our dads are at peace. My heart and prayers are with you. Much love, Cindy Cottrell Dean

Adra, Cathy, Theresa & Families, When I think of Mr. Harry my memories go back to the late 50's and early 60's. I was a young teen and I use to travel with your mom, as a babysitter, to visit your dad whenever he was at a nearby port. Being a neighbor for all those years, I have too many memories to mention. I do want to say that your dad loved his family very much and sacrificed time with ya'll to make sure his family was well provided for. Both your parents were very good friends and neighbors to my parents and I appreciated that so much. Our families kind of took care of each other back in those early days. I was happy that my sister was there to care for him in his final years. It is amazing how God's plan comes together. After many years I know that our parents are now together again! Love & Blessings, Lynel Jourdan Moore
