Vicki--SO sorry to learn of your father's lengthy health struggle and passing. As Vicki W. said, "It's spooky how similar the situations (of her father and your father) were". My sincere condolences to you, your brother and your mother. May all of you find comfort in knowing that he is now at rest. Praying for you. Sincerely, Luan Wine

My fondest memory of Frank is the day he came to take my sister Dee and I fishing. We were young girls and neither of us had ever fished. Frank came and visited with the folks for a while and I thought we would never leave. Once we were on our way my sister (who was older than I and knew about fishing) starting talking about worms and I was wondering what is this fishing about. When we got there I wouldn't touch the worms or take the fish off the hooks so Frank with a smile did it for me. I did get a lot of teasing about that and I know he thought I was a big baby about it but he never said anything. We ended up having a great time but he never did ask me to go fishing with him again. Frank will be missed but always thought of with love My Condolences to Alice, Vicki and Glen. Love always Dorothy
