Like a lot of her students, Ms. Wall was definitely one of my favorite teachers. Every time I walked into her classroom or seen her sitting outside her classroom we just had to have a conversation. I remember having two free periods my senior year and I would always go sit in her classroom right by her desk. We'd eat our little snacks, I'd help her grade papers, write on the board for her, run errands. And she would always tell me, "You should be a kindergarten teacher; you have a kindergarten teacher's handwriting." Like she was literally one of my best friends. I cried so hard when I found out she passed because she was literally one of my best friends. Every time I passed by CHS and seen her PT Cruiser I would say I need to go visit her, but I never did...and I regret it. You'll truly be missed Ms. Wall. I love you.

Rest in Peace, Ms. Wall. You were a wonderful teacher who always made me laugh, and helped me out in tutoring, so that I could pass the LEAP test math portion. You also made Financial Math that I took senior year fun. You'll always have a special place in my heart. Condolences to the Wall family.

Miss Wall is one of those teachers that you just never forget. She leaves, well now I have to say that she LEFT a positive mark wherever she went. It's rare to find someone like her. I took her class at least 2 or 3 of my 4 years at CHS, I'm horrible at math, & she was the only one that taught math to where I could actually understand it and almost, keyword here, almost enjoyed math. I'm blessed to have known her. We all are. It was both sad and a pleasure seeing her at the hospital where I worked at. I read the name "E. Wall" & thought to myself, surely this can't be Eileen Wall & sure enough I walked into her room and she greeted me with her usual well hey darling, something I'll never forget :(....., just last month or so and her telling me that she finally had to retire. Hard to believe that she's gone. Rest in peace Miss Wall.
