It's only been 1 year that we knew each other but you made a huge impact in my life. You always had a smile on your face when I would walk in the room. My favorite conversation was about how much you enjoyed dancing. I know you are in your wife's arms dancing in heaven Mr.Charlie. I grew to love and respect you as a very wise man. Thank you for allowing me to be part of your life. I miss you but I am happy you are home. I love you still and until we meet again I will say until we meet again it would be a honor to be greeted by you when God calls me home. PS: save me a dance.

I have such sweet memories of holiday gatherings with our families, especially Thanksgivings!! I don't think any of us had great monetary riches at that time but we were rich in love even if only for that day!! That old shotgun house on Toulouse St! And Aunt Carol across the street! McKenzies boxes on the table full of sweet delicacies and lots of other foods. For some reason I am remembering a particular relish dish with sweet pickles and olives. LOL. Those were the days! I remember Uncle Chuck! Always smiling and warm and kind! God bless you all with peace and comfort. Much love.

God bless all of you Dexter's and descendants of Cousin Charlie. I spent one afternoon with him at his home several years ago when I was in New Orleans. We spent the whole day together talking. He shared his whole life with me from the good times to the sad ones from when he was in WW II and when his wife passed away. It only took this one chance meeting with my distant cousin to know what a wonderful man he was. He then took me out to dinner at one of his favorite seafood spots where it seemed everyone knew him and he shared more of his life with me. I believe he had a taste for those Louisiana crab cakes. He gave me one of his woodcarvings of a narrow at the hip, Cowboy, as a gift to remember him by. Little did he know that my visit was memory enough. I know he is resting comfortably in the arms of Jesus and that he is smiling down on the remarkable family that he loved so dearly. Sincerely, Bryce Malcolm Dexter
