Antonetta "Lena" Goegan Salvaggio

OCT 25, 1928 - JAN 25, 2018

Antonetta "Lena" Goegan Salvaggio passed away on Thursday, January 25, 2018 in Covington, LA. She was born on October 25, 1928 in Chicago, IL to the late Giuseppe "Joe" Goegan and Imelda Simione Goegan.

Lena was married to her beloved husband, the late Anthony "Tony" Salvaggio. She was the loving mother of Linda LaNasa Weir, and husband, the late Joe Weir, Susan LaNasa Jeanfreau and husband, Charles Jeanfreau, Jr., and Toni Salvaggio Trosclair and husband, Joey Trosclair. Lena was the proud grandmother of Todd Weir and wife, Jaclyn Weir, Tyler Weir, Matthew Reisch and wife, Bethany Reisch, Austin Williams, Bailey Williams, Trey Jeanfreau, and Sydney Jeanfreau; great-grandmother of Kristin, Katie, Seth, Chloe, Riley, Blaze, Remi, and her newest little angel, Maggie Jo, born just two weeks ago. Lena was the sister of the late Udino Goegan and wife, the late, Rose Goegan. She is also survived by nieces, nephews, and cousins.

Lena was an extremely talented and creative seamstress and expert crafter. She did it, not only for her own enjoyment, but made a living for her family sewing bridal gowns and clothing. Many people will remember the fabulous Halloween and Mardi Gras costumes she created. She had the opportunity to design the costume for Nicholas Cage when he was King of Bacchus. Her favorites were the wedding gowns for her daughters and the christening gowns for her grandbabies.

Lena was proud of her Italian heritage. She fed her family the Italian recipes handed down for generations. Every Christmas her enormous assortment of Italian cookies were requested and enjoyed by all.

Lena - my Italian step-Mom, I have missed you since I moved away and will always remember the love and acceptance you Sushi and Tonette gave so freely to me and my family. We are all very lucky God gave you to us for a short while, you have enriched many lives. You have earned your wings, and I imagine you'll be cooking up something amazing in the heavenly kitchen, while Antny and Irwin play cards on the green military blanket. I can hear the laughter! Love - Ching

In 1983 I was very fortunate to be blessed with the greatest of friends, Toni Salvaggio-Trosclair. I was further blessed to of known and been loved by Toni's mother, Lena Salvaggio. During my first pregnancy with my eldest daughter I lived in New Orleans and did not have any family near. Toni, her mother, Lena, her sister Susan made all the difference in my life. Not only did Lena, treat me as her own daughter and shower me with every love and gift a pregnant mother could imagine. Lena stood by with me on the phone when I thought I may be in labor to give me every advice. Not only did they throw me the sweetest baby shower ever, but Lena made me a winter jacket and scarf. Lena made all my baby room items from wall-hangings to sheets to baby carrier. She made me the most beautiful pink laced basinet also. She sewed the sheets, pillow, bumper and comforter for my baby's crib all in care bears. Toni actually brought over a small luggage and packed my hospital bag and cleaned my apartment for me (I was not much of a cleaner back then). While in the hospital after delivery of my beautiful baby girl, Jade Maria, Lena brought me Parents magazines, a Doctor Spock book, the best homemade chocolate peanut butter balls and nursing bras. Jade was born on Susan's birthday, December 14th, 1984. Toni brought over the most beautiful little Christmas tree with colored lights. I don't think I ever to this day have been embraced so lovingly by a family. I would love if Lena could stay here on earth with us longer, at least until I could see her again. She entered into eternal Glory yesterday evening. I am ever grateful for the love that made me feel worthy. I know you are resting in perfect peace.
