Everytime I seen Allison she was smiling. She loved putting puzzles together, every Christmas and Birthday I asked her what she would like and of course she wanted a puzzle. Puzzles that would take me a few weeks to put together Allison would have it done in a few days. She would also keep Ryan , Cody and Austin in line. She made sure her brother and his friends were behaving. Allison rest in peace sweet girl.

There are no words that can fully explain how I feel. You fought so hard the last few years. Harder than most people could. I know you will never have to fight again. Your life is with Jesus now, and he has given you the perfect eternal life. I will think of you always until the day we see each other again. I love you. Mom

Clint and Carla. Danny & I are so saddened to here of Allison's passing. I remember the night we were at Joyce & Raymond's house with y'all & she was so tiny and got sick and y'all had to rush her to the hospital. The news wasn't good. Y'all took such good care of her and she really was strong and fought a good long fight. She was a loving child and grew into a loving young lady. She is not having any struggles anymore or any battles to fight. No sickness, just joy and happines, with Jesus at her side. HE decided that He wanted her with Him. And you will all be together again one day. She will be missed greatly. Our prayers are with you and all the family. We love y'all dearly.
