My sincere condolences to all his family and friends. Once I was going to visit Larry and Arlene when they lived on the lake front in Mandeville. No one answered the door so I walked into the backyard to see if Larry was in his shop. As I approached I could see Larry laying on the ground. It scared me because I thought he had fallen and hurt himself until I heard him telling me to hurry up and get down. That's when I discovered he had made a trap to catch a hummingbird. He made a cage out of chicken coup with a string to catch it. Shortly after he caught it. We had a blast taking pictures of it before releasing it. Those pictures hung in my bathroom until a year ago when we moved to Gonzales. Great memories!
