I will always remember you as the quick witted girl next door with the tough exterior, but a heart of gold. Lisa did not want you leaving your porch after school and my mom gave me the same marching orders, so we often sat on our respective swings and talking between apartments and joking about the daily events that shaped the lives of middle schoolers. You were a sweet, fiercely protective friend with a laugh that I can still remember all these years later. I was so saddened to hear the news of your passing this morning.

I will miss my friend dearly. I have so many awesome memories of her and the times we as a group all shared . As I've told them some of my happiest moments, you were right by my side to smile , laugh , and live without fear . I'm so sorry life got so busy that we never got to meet up as we had planned for those cocktails and to catch up on Our Lives . I'll miss you so but I'll never forget you Stace' . I love you ❤️
