Nancy always made a visit to Lockport entertaining and interesting. I am so sorry for your loss. I pray that God will bring you strength and peace as you go through these days and weeks. She was a good daughter-in-law to Isabelle and cared for her to the end. For that and all of her good deeds, she will be rewarded in heaven. I think she and my father are already singing together. Much love to all of the Hudson family. Patricia

Mrs. Hudson was by far my favorite teacher. She was soo sweet and funny. I have the best memories from 6th grade at Abita Middle, I can still remember her excitement about her jar of dirt from Green Bay Stadium. She will truly be missed and sending prayers to all her family.

Nancy and I were BFFs for 60 years--a friendship forged on the playgrounds of Allouez School, where we played our own brand of touch football, and in Nancy's bedroom, where we sang along to our favorite musical comedy albums. She was as crazy about the Green Bay Packers as I was--I'm sure you've all heard her stories of the funny things that happened when we went "Packer hunting" as teens. I probably wouldn't have had much of a social life in high school if it weren't for Nancy's friendship. She was a big part of my own family's gatherings because she got along with my mother much better than I did! Our friendship persisted through different high schools, different colleges, her move to Louisiana and mine to Ohio. Starting in 1997, we developed a new tradition: the annual Packer trip to Green Bay, with our friends Corky and Linda, to revisit our youth and take in a game. It was always the highlight of the year. Nancy is going to leave a big hole in my life, but I don't think I'll completely process her loss until I start to head north and realize that she will be with me only in spirit. Nancy used to wonder--literally--if she would qualify to enter heaven. I'm not a believer, but if there is a heaven, I know she's there--swapping stories with our childhood heroes Paul Hornung, Max McGee, and Henry Jordan of the Packers. Say hi to them for me, Nance. I love you.
