I'm so so sorry for being late to post, I am just finding out. I live in Los Angeles and I had the privilege of meeting Kayla when I was on a trip many years ago. We are both Virgos and got along instantly. Her kindness is what I think about when I think of her. I send my deepest respects to her family and especially her children. She seems like she was just the best Mom. Biggest hugs ☐

Dear Sweet Beautiful Kayla, Hearing the terrible news that you were gone brought the lyrics of Vincent's Starry Starry Night into my heart and mind of how precious of a life you were. Little did I know, years ago, that just over a mile away from my home in Folsom, LA would be this exceptional young lady that would bless me with my first grandson, Ben. Thank you Kayla, thank you! Just as Kahlil Gibran expressed in The Prophet, I envision those restless tides now unencumbered as you kneel before the king to lay his hand upon you in honor. There are so many beautiful glowing photos of you. This one with Ben I always carry and view in daily family prayer and counting my blessings.
