We both worked with Genny during her time at Stone Pigman. She was always so kind and spread her joy to those around her. Our condolences to her family in this difficult time. Susan Talley and Jay Gulotta

I recently retired as the Executive Director of Stone Pigman law firm. Genny was our long-time Mail Room Supervisor who eventually supervised the Copy Department and became our Purchasing Agent. She taught many a salesperson that Stone Pigman conducted its purchasing business differently than many other customers. She expected honesty, best prices, service, and did not share other vendor pricing behind vendors' backs. She also refrained from other pricing behavior that undercut vendor trust and business principles. She worked very hard to do what was best for the firm. As an example, in the days when the firm went through truckloads of copy paper, she made the decision to use a vendor who had slightly higher pricing, but better service. When the Copy Department was surprised with an unexpected litigation copy job that required volumes of paper which we did not have in stock, Genny was able to call the vendor who said he'd put cases of paper in his car and come right over. This was essential, especially when another vendor might tell you that its next delivery date was two or three days away. She understood the demands and deadlines of the firm and always respected the excellence that was expected of everyone at Stone Pigman. She shared that in her training and supervision of many employees who had a long tenure at the firm. We have thought about her often in the years since she retired and always appreciate the example she set for others. Our deepest condolences to her family. Nancy Claypool
