I remember when I was young about 12 and going to her house with my aunt. There were so many deer heads on the walls. We had deer burgers that night. She said I think you'll turn out alright. That was 34 years ago. Well Aunt Beryl , I turned out alright. Thanks for the encouragement . - susan

I loved how she always called me by my childhood nickname. When she said it I was little again and she was teaching me something like how white bread was poison! or offering me something delicious like baked apples in a campfire or mama's noodle o's! Or lending me her Nancy Drew books...her Cajun accent when she told jokes! I already miss her presence on our beautiful crazy planet that she loved so dearly. I am so sorry for the loss to all of her family who cared for her so devotedly in her declining years. She was brave and so were you all! I am with you in spirit as you send her off tomorrow in one last visit. Much love always , Lydi
